Lack of "Big Stick" Methods and Failure of Several

Colonel Roosevelt would have called the "big stick." It was admitted last night by Senator Schuyler M. Meyer, chairman of the committee, that powers which the committee, that powers which the committee possesses, such as the power of subpœna, has not been used in some instances until the administration forced the committee to take a positive stand.

The latest instance has been the Police Department. For several days, according to Mr. Meyer, the department has hampered investigators sent by the committee to examine certain books and documents. The actions of the hours. While McManus was in the City Hall word of the fact was sent to one of the executives of the legislative "You can get McManus right now if "You can get McManus right now if you will send a state trooper over to City Hall with a subpœna," the employee of the committee was told.

"We don't want to do that," was the renly. "Mr. Wallstein, who is out of town, is handling that case, and we have assurances that we can get Mc-Manus when we want him. We could not use him until Mr. Wallstein gets back."

The Mr. Wallstein in question is

You'll always find that joy waits

To take the place of dreadful fear.

Spat. A drop of water struck in the dry leaves at the feet of Buster Bear. Spat, spat, spat. Other drops struck all about. The voice of Stickytoes the Tree Toad grew still more shrill as he cried, "Rain, rain! It is going to rain!" And then the drops came faster and faster until instead of drops the rain fell in sheets. My, how it did rain! It rained as if all the water in all the clouds in all the Great World was failing on the Green Forest.

Cites Case of "The" McManus

Another instance is the case of "The" McManus. Tammany leader and friend of Charles F. Murphy. For more than a menth McManus could not be found by subpœna servers of the committee Chairman Meyer called upon the newspapers to publish the fact that investigators employed by the fact that investigators employed by the committee that tried to find McManus to serve a subpœna on him and had been unable to do so. He also charged that Alderman Charles McManus, brother of the Tammany leader, had promised to produce him on two different occasions and had failed to make good both times.

On Tuesday "The" McManus called at the City Hall. He talked with several aewspapermen and politicians. Then ae attended the session of the Board oi Aidermen, which lasted for about three hours. While McManus was in the City Hall word of the fact was sent to one

May Not Need Miller's Aid
Chairman Meyer said yesterday that it may not be necessary, as he thought at first, to request the Governor to convene the Appellate Division so that it could hear the committee's appeal from the decision in the Leach contempt case. He said that the committee, through its chief counsel, Elon R. Brown, would write to the presiding justice and petition the court to hear the appeal when it sits on July 6 to hear original motions. The granting of the committee's plea would make it unnecessary to seek the assistance of the Governor, it was explained.

"Hurrah!" cried Buster Bear.
"Hurrah!" cried all he little people gathered about the tree in which sat Stickytoes the Tree Toad.

"The Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind drove up those clouds just in time, I guess," said Mother Bear. "This will kill the Red Terror. This is a joyous day for the Green Forest. My, my, how it rains! We must find shelter somewhere.

Apparently everybody else had the same idea, for in two minutes the twin cubs found themselves alone with Mother Bear. Stickytoes was the only one who did not leave. He still sat in the tree, but his cry had changed ever so little. "Rain, rain, beautiful rain!" he shrilled now, and as the twins trudged along at the heels of Mother Bear that shrill voice followed them far into the Green Forest.

And such a change as had come over all the people of the Green Forest. They knew they no longer hard anything to fear from the Red Terror, which we call fire. Girl "Doctors" Soda; Dies

Evelyn Donnelly, nineteen years old of 444 West 164th Street, a clerk, dropped dead after drinking a soda in an ice cream parlor at 2112 Amsterdam Avenue last night. According to the report of witnesses to the police, before the girl raised her glass she took two white capsules from her handbag and put them in the glass. She had hardly drained the mixtures when she collapsed.

She was taken to Columbus Hospital in an auto and was pronounced dead by a physician at that institution. When informed of the death of her deughter. Mrs. Donnelly was insistent that Evelyn had not committed suicide. She said she believed that the capsules were prescribed by her doctor and that they were in no way responsible for the death.

trieme has been rearranged to show you how attractive pieces of early American find in this room sets of little painted chairs, a fine old gate leg table, a great oblong and fine aristocratic antique wing chairs. Then, too, there is a particularly magnificent mahogany highboy with old brasses, an unusually fine chest of drawers with grooved legs, tip tables and many interesting small pieces of the sort that one generally sees in a Museum of American antiques. On the walls are fine old decorative samplers in soft colors and there are bits of exquisite antique glass on the tables and sideboards. There are any number of things that will give any room in your country house more character and more comfort. And each piece of this furniture is a bit of the fine old

A Room in Grisaille In BELMAISON

A bed-room, which is really like a drawing-room, one that has dignity and charm and the delightful intimate atmosphere of the little French Salon, has been arranged in Belmaison. The whole interest in the room centres about a lovely old painted mantel and over-mantel, painted dark gray, with classic figures and motifs in grisaille painted on it. The mantel is drawn above, you see how lovely are its simple proportions. The curtains in the room repeat the tones of the mantel in a grey-blue mist of gauze, draped over soft rose gauze. Near the window is a three-piece chaise-longue, covered with blue velvet, with edging of gathered rose-colored French ribbon. The taffeta bed-cover is also rose color and has a formal ornament in diamond shapes made of French ribbon, to match the diamond motifs on the painted Directoire bed.

Other things that give the room dignity and character are a pair of old tole Directoire candlesticks made into lamps, old amusing prints on the wall, and a charming dress-table, simply draped in rose silk.

It IS a fine servicefor the sale continues today (hundreds of suits; all sizes).

One man said—

"I've been around town pretty much this month, lookir men's suits. Guess I know what REAL suits cost. Haven't seen anything like these (he was holding up a $39 suit) under $60."

Well-they're WAN-AMAKER suits, regular stock, best in the country for the money, best that can be made for the money. And that means (1) fabric, (2) color, (3) pattern, (4) cut, (5) tailoring.

Once each year-in June-we reduce prices so as to hurry out a quantity of our Spring-to-Winter suits, to make room for the mohairs and the Palm Beach cloths, and the white flannel trousers, and other July clothing.

It's a time for which many men wait. Some, selfishly fore-thoughted, buy several suits in this sale. We, of course, like as many as possible of our customers to get the benefits of these half yearly savings.
